November's Program

"A Different View" & "Downtown"

by Bobb Walling

Bob's photographic knowledge is basically self-taught. He has been involved in photography since high school where he belonged to photography clubs. At home, Bob had a darkroom which was quipped with a homemade enlarger. He also worked in a commercial darkroom developing prints.

As his hobby developed over the years, he got into part time portrait and wedding photography. Bob can relate to many anecdotes about these experiences, some of them quite humorous. He have since retired from these endeavors.

Bob Walling is currently a Master member of the Trillium Photographic Club, which meets in Burlington, as well as a member of the Canadian Association for Photographic Art (CAPA). He has made the switch exclusively to digital photography. The marriage of photography and computer technology has produced a medium that extends photography to new dimensions. In technical terms, it's a paradigm shift for imaging.

He is currently facilitating an online digital discussion group for CAPA and participating in several Internet virtual photographic clubs.

Bob has been retired for several years. He worked as a computer professional since 1967 and didn't go through the growing pains that many photographers are facing today as they switch to digital photography.

His photographic interests are in the areas of architecture, horticulture and landscapes. Bob enjoys making digital prints and he competes in both prints and digital images at Trillium, CAPA and PSA.

A Different View is a study of architecture from several Canadian cities. It provides a cross country architectural tour.

Downtown is a tour of downtown Toronto in the University, Jarvis, Front and Queen area. It compares and contrasts the old and new and is set to appropriate music. F

Some news from the last NFCC Executive meeting
